

GERMANS RETREATING BEFORE ALLIES' DRIVE

ALL REPORTS SHOW SMASHING OFFENSIVE IS PROVING SUCCESSFUL.

TURKS ARE AGAIN DEFEATED

England's Forces In Mesopotamia Inflict Heavy Losses on the Enemy.

(Associated Press)
The Associated Press correspondent at British headquarters in France says the British last night broke through the German front for a distance of four miles and that the Teu-tons are now in full retreat.

London reports the British forces have captured the village Fayette, a mile north of St. Quentin, and two important positions east of Lever-guler.

In the direction of Vimy, British troops have seized the Vimy station and a number of positions and took four howitzers.

Turned Towner Down.

A proposal by Towner of Iowa to eliminate the $3,000,000 loan to the allies failed on the objection of Majority Leader Kitchin. Towner said he was not opposed to the loan but did not want the president and treasury department to manage it alone.
Supporters of the bill saw in the result of the vote on Towner's proposal a test of their strength and attacked it with patriotic argument.

Correspondents on the west front report every indication of a continuation of the German retirement under the smashing offensive of the British.

London, April 14.—Sir Douglas Haig shifted his sledge hammer blows from the Arras-Lens front to the Cambrai-St. Quentin line. In a mighty onrush, his infantry forces smashed into the Teuton positions between Hargicourt and Metz-En-Couture, a front of nine miles, bending that sector of the Hindenburg line back fully a mile and capturing four formidable fortified German positions—Sart Farm, Gauche Wood, Gonzeaucourt village and the wood of the same name.

Further to the north their advance Thursday night and early Friday swept away a salient two miles wide and nearly a mile deep.

Altogether more than 160 German guns have been taken by the British since the new drive began. Friday's advance netted them more than 200 prisoners.

French Carry Several Lines.

The French, in a vigorous resumption of the drive on St. Quentin from the south, carried several lines of German trenches between the Somme and the St. Quentin railway, taking some prisoners and machine guns. They also made further progress south of the Oise, to the east of Coucy-La-Ville.
Here too prisoners were made and machine guns captured.

Meanwhile the crown prince's army struck two surprise blows on the Verdun front, General Nivelle's troops were fully awake, however. The German infantry columns were grieved by a hail of shells and were forced to abandon the attempt before reaching the French lines.

Berlin officially claims that "preliminary successes" by the British were balanced by Teuton counterthrusts. "Twice the attacking enemy was repulsed with heavy loss," said the German office day report, asserting further that the British attacks southeast of Arras "failed" as did French attacks around St. Quentin.

The communication announces that the total prisoners taken in the offensive begun early last Monday morning now aggregate more than 13,000.
Guns to the number of 166 also have been taken.

SHOWS CAPACITY OF U.S. PLANTS

Twenty-five Munitions Manufacturers Bid For Shells.

(Associated Press)
Washington, Apr. 14.—The navy department has made public bids received from 25 munitions makers on an order for 1,587,000 shells of all calibres, bringing out sharply the enormous capacity of the American plants. Eleven bidders each offered to absorb an entire order for 1,170,000 one-pounder projectiles and within a few weeks to begin deliveries at the rate of 100,000 to 500,000 a month.

REIGN OF TERRORISM GRIPS TWIN CITIES

Guardsmen Are Being Fired on Nightly; Snipers Bite Dust.

Minneapolis, April 14.—A series of attempts to assassinate national guardsmen doing police duty in the Twin Cities disclosed the reign of terrorism which public enemies have tried to wreak on Minneapolis.

Three of the would-be plotters and murderers are at the post hospital at Fort Snelling with wounds inflicted by guardsmen and another is said to have met his death. A half dozen others have been court martialed and disposed of in a way not made public, presumably having been sent to Fort Leavenworth penitentiary. Every night for a week guardsmen in the milling districts and bridges have been fired upon by ambushed assailants, with four different skirmishes Thursday night in which forty shots were fired. Only one sentry two were badly beaten up early Thursday morning.
A plot to blow up the immense mill of the Washburn Crosby company has been frustrated.

FORCED RATIONS IN SIGHT

If People Won't Save Food, U. S. May Regulate Supply.

Washington, April 14.—Should the volunteer system of food conservation fail, the government of the United States is prepared to institute compulsory regulation on a gigantic scale.
This is becoming more and more evident as the gravity of the food shortage crisis is making its impress upon those governmental agencies responsible for the proper conduct of the war.

MIND THE LAWS

The word has gone out from the police department that auto drivers must carefully observe the laws regarding square corners and not park

Bulgarians who are now occupying their country is reported in an Ex-

As a result of pressure exerted by the Bulgarians the Serbian population revolted and took to the hills battalions and companies and are engaged in destroying bridges, railways

The Bulgarian government has dispatched troops to Nish to suppress the disorders, which are said to have reached grave proportions.

MRS. H.W. HARMS IS CALLED TO ETERNITY

BELOVED NORTH DIXON WIFE AND MOTHER PASSED AWAY
THIS MORNING.

FUNERAL MONDAY AFTERNOON

Mrs. Herbert W. Harms passed quietly away at her home, 420 East McKinney street, shortly after 11 o'clock this morning, after a long and valiant fight against the ravages of an incurable malady. Funeral services will be held at the home at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, Rev. E. C.
Lumsden, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating, and with interment at Oakwood cemetery.

Miss Belle Floto was born at her parents' farm at the Bend January 29, 1884, and her entire life was spent in this vicinity. She graduated from the North Dixon high school and for many years was one of the leaders in Dixon's musical circles.
Her beautiful personality and kindness were evident in all her acts, and in the Methodist church, until her health forbade it, she was a very active worker, in addition to being soloist in the big chorus choir.

She was united in marriage to Herbert W. Harms in 1908 and two children, Helen and Wilbur, the latter of whom is but a year and a half old, were born to the union. They and the sorrowing husband survive, together with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas.
Floto of North Crawford avenue, and two brothers, Arthur E. Floto of New Rockford, N. D., and Clarence of Northfield, Minn.

MOTORCYCLIST NEAR INJURY FRIDAY EVE

RIDER, WHOSE NAME WAS NOT LEARNED, NARROWLY ES-CAPED COLLISION.

A motorcyclist, whose name was not learned by the officers or witnesses, had a narrow escape from death or serious injury at about 5 p. m. Friday while riding west on Third street at a rate far in excess of the speed laws, according to spectators, when he narrowly missed running into Henry Kenneth's automobile, which was being driven north on College avenue.

Mr. Kenneth, seeing the cyclist approaching so swiftly, turned west into Third street in an effort to avoid striking the fellow, and his presence of mind in so doing is all that saved a terrible collision. The cyclist, according to witnesses, was riding so fast he could not stop and struck the curb at the northwest corner of the intersection and was thrown off, the wheel falling back under the auto.
The motorcycle was damaged considerably.

issued by the court at the return of the true bill. He is charged with the with his duties with the Fox River in the sum of $300. He will probably be arraigned before Judge Heard

TO REDRAW EUROPE'S R.R. MAP

Allies Are Planning To Avoid All German Roads After War.

(By United Press)
Rome, April 14.—Allied railroad commissions are today preparing to redraw Europe's railroad map. They are already planning the destruction of the allied dependence on the German lines in the "war after war." For example, a proposed railroad connects Bordeaux with Odessa, avoiding Middle Europe and passing through Turin and the Italian-to-be Trieste.
Other lines, perfecting the development of allied territory, are also in prospect. French and English railroad officials are now in Italy studying the situation with allied officials.
The commissioners are making a careful tour of investigation throughout the allied countries, it is said, and work on the contemplated lines will be rushed to completion as soon as the war ends.

MAY CHANGE WAR AGE LIMIT

Some Sentiment Exists for Making It 21 and 40 Instead of 19 to 25.

Washington, April 14.—Some amendment of the conscription bill is likely in the house military committee, members say.
There is some sentiment in favor of making the age limit twenty-one and forty instead of nineteen to twenty-five, and meanwhile provide training for men between eighteen and twenty-one.

SOCIALISTS EXPECT PEACE IN TEN WEEKS

LEADERS OF RUSSIA AND GER-MAN PARTIES TO MEET IN SWEDEN.

GERMANY MAY YIELD GROUND

(Associated Press)

Peace within two and a half months is predicted by the Copenhagen correspondent of the Social Press, who is a member of the Danish parliament and who confirms the reports of unofficial negotiations between Germany and Russian Socialists. He says
"I am assured from absolutely trustworthy sources that Germany is prepared to restore Belgium and Serbia, evacuate France and with Turkey to arrange with Russia for free navigation of the Dardanelles. England is the sole obstacle to peace."

Amsterdam says that Schneider-mann, leader of the majority socialists in Germany, and three other prominent German socialists are enroute to Stockholm, where it is believed they will meet envoys of the Russian government and will proceed to Petrograd.

DEATH STRUCK HIM WHILE DRIVING CAR

AGED FREEPORT MAN'S HANDS CLUTCHED WHEEL AS CAR STOPPED.

Freeport, Apr. 14.—While driving his newly purchased automobile on the public highway near Pearl City yesterday, Wm. Noller, aged 76, was stricken dead and the car plunged off the road, through a five-strand barbed wire fence and finally was stopped by a heavy post. His daughter who was with him, knew nothing of the mechanism of the car and was unable to stop it. She is now on the verge of nervous prostration as the result of her awful experience. The deceased had not complained of feeling in ill health and he passed away without uttering a word or giving a sign that he had suffered an attack.

WILSON PRAISES CUBA'S ACT

Cables President Menocal for Aiding Champions of Human Rights.

Havana, April 14.—President Wilson in a cablegram to President Men-ocal expressed pleasure at "the unani-mity with which Cuban people, through their congress, have unhesitatingly cast in their lot with the nations of the world who are championing the rights and liberties of all mankind."
The message follows:
"His Excellency, Mario G. Menocal, President of Cuba, Havana: I am greatly impressed by the unanimity with which the Cuban people, through their constituted congress, have unhesitatingly cast in their lot with the nations of the world who are championing the rights and liberties, not alone of neutrals, but of all mankind.
We rejoice that Cuba, having gained the prize of self-government through sacrifice and blood, is in a position to appraise, as all regenerated peoples do, the worth of that prize and stands ready to aid in confirming its existence for the welfare of mankind."

TWO HOSPITAL SHIPS LOST

Fifty-two Lives Lost When Vessel Is Torpedoed Without Warning.

London, April 14.—The British hospital ship Salta was sunk by a mine in the English Channel on April 10, the war office announces. Fifty-two persons were drowned.
The admiralty also announces the British hospital ship Gloucester Castle was torpedoed without warning and sunk in midchannel the night of March 30-31. All the wounded on the Gloucester Castle were saved. A German wireless dispatch of April 11 says the Gloucester Castle was torpedoed by a German submarine.

Milyukov Cables Congratulations.

Washington, April 14.—President Wilson received a cablegram from Foreign Minister Milyukov of Russia declaring that the active participation of the United States in the world war will accelerate the victory of the entente allies. He expressed by the United States of the new Rus-

DUST INFECTION ATTACK I. N. C.

Nine Members of Sixth Reg. In Hospital At Springfield.

Springfield, Apr. 14.—A dust infection, at first thought to be symptoms of pneumonia, has attacked a large number of members of the Sixth Illinois Infantry encamped at Camp Lowden. Nine members are in the hospital, but are in no immediate danger, and are surrounded by every comfort. Transfer of the guardsmen from the dome building, where dust is thick, to the swine pavilion, will lessen the danger of more infection, it is believed.

CLAMMING SEASON TO OPEN HERE TOMORROW

CITY CLERK GROVER HAS RE-CEIVED LICENSES AND THE WORK CAN BEGIN.

EXPECT VERY PROFITABLE YEAR

For several days clamming in this vicinity who have secured permission from owners of property along Rock river to clam in the waters adjacent to their property have been on the anxious seat because City Clerk Blake Grover had received no licenses, without which they could not start work with the opening of the season tomorrow.

However, their worries can now end, for Mr. Grover received a book of the permits this morning and all the clamming have to do now is to dig up the necessary coin of the realm, make proper application, get their precious permits and go to work.

The delay in the licenses reaching Dixon and every other city in the state, was caused by the desire of the fish and game commission to incorporate in the rules and regulations that are printed on the back of each license the changes which the General Assembly might make in the law this spring.

Men who seek the mussel shells are anticipating a profitable year.
Due to the war in Europe the importation of buttons from the continent has ceased, forcing this country to depend wholly upon its own button factories. This has stimulated the demand for shells from which the buttons are made and prices have advanced accordingly.

Junior Class D.H.S. Scored Big Hit In Presentation Of Class Play Friday

(By Edward Ryan)

The Junior class of the Dixon high school proved to the superstitious and all others of Dixon that a play of was the rightful aspirant for Barke-ley 13 characters and presented on Friday the 13th, need not necessarily be clams, effecting a reconciliation of a "jinx" show, for the comedy. "The two, Miss Jewitt was finally be-Blossoming of Mary Anne" presented last evening at the opera house, was a decided success. Not only did each member of the cast perform the part creditably, but a neat sum was realized-happily for all.

Indeed it would be a difficult task to select a star from among the cast, for every character performed above the standard usually reached by the home talent plays. However, there were a few who had exceptionally difficult parts and who deserve especial mention. Among them are: Vernon Cortright as the hero, Miss Ruth Rosenthal as Mary Anne, Gladys Emmert as a society woman, Clara Fischer as a domestic of Teutonic extraction, Leota Rice as Sarah Applegate Slissy, the Farmdale seamstress and gossip, and Miss Orleans Newcomer as the scheming society girl.
The entire performance reflects credit on Miss Powell, teacher of English at the high school, who directed it, and on all the young people who took part, for their work was proof that he had been rejected by of faithful study and rehearsal.

it applauded.

Not Less Than Par.

After proposals to limit the term of foreign loan bonds had been rejected, an amendment by Kitchin was adopted providing that part of the $5,000,000,000 issue, which will be offered for popular sale, not subscribed for and of which the secretary of the treasury may otherwise dispose, shall be sold "at not less than par."

Amendments approved by Secretary McAdoo to limit specifically distribution of the proposed $3,000,000,000 foreign loan which the bill would authorize to countries actually at war with Germany, and only during hostilities were added to the measure.

sel proceeding in contravention to regulations duly promulgated in accordance with this executive order shall

Dramatic Notes

BIG SHOW MONDAY NIGHT.

If you want to travel a trail of laughter that is one continuous joy ride from curtain to curtain, "hit the trail" to the Opera House on Monday night and see Geo. M. Cohan's newest comedy, "Hit-the-Trail-Holiday." It's a laughing journey all the way. The new piece is a typical American comedy in Cohan's best vein. It introduces a number of quaint country folk characters into whose midst comes "Billy" Holliday, the best bartender in all Yorkdom who, in his new environment takes sides with the prohibition party and organizes a temperance campaign that puts the boozers to rest. This particular Billy Holliday route is all laughter. The well known vaudeville team of Otto and Merrill are at the head of Cohan and Harris' usual well balanced cast. Frank Otto plays the character of Billy Holliday while Miss Lola Merrill portrays the minister's daughter, Edith Holden. Billy Holliday as interpreted by Mr. Otto promises a few novel twists for the local theatre goers.

Signatures.
A signature is something a man writes at the end of his letters so nobody will know who they're from.

Some business men who are really interested in knowing who writes to them, employ signature ferrets. That is, bright young men who take the wild signature, chase it to its lair, lash it into a fury and force it to divulge its identity.

*There are two other methods. Sometimes the ferret is able to nail a signature's owner by comparing it with the printed list of directors, or managers, or something like that, printed at the top of the letterhead. But this is not often possible.

Some folks have signatures and others write their names.

WILL AEROPLANES PREVENT WAR IN FUTURE?

"I really believe that the aeroplane will help peace in more ways than one—in particular I think it will have a tendency to make war impossible," writes Orville Wright in Harper's Magazine. "Indeed, it is my conviction that had the European governments foreseen the part which the aeroplane was to play, especially in reducing all their strategical plans to a devastating deadlock, they would never have entered upon the war. Possibly they foresaw something of the present development, but not definitely. When I was in England several years ago I found the British government not at all enthusiastic about the aeroplane, since the English military experts regarded it as a menace to England's isolation. This was the time when the nation was aroused over the fear of a German invasion; there was a widespread belief that the Germans were planning a descent in several forms of aircraft, and many very sensible people regarded such an enterprise as not impossible. Naturally they looked with suspicion upon any instrument, such as the aeroplane, which might facilitate such an operation. This illustrated the mistaken notions which were entertained concerning the practical uses of the aeroplane in warfare. Most of us saw its use for scouting purposes, but few foresaw that it would usher in an entirely new form of warfare. As a result of its activities, every opposing general knows the exact strength of his enemy and precisely what he is going to do. Thus surprise attacks, which for thousands of years have determined the events of wars, are no longer possible, and thus all future wars, between forces which stand anywhere near an equality, will settle down to tedious deadlocks. Civilized countries, knowing this in advance, will hesitate before taking up arms—a fact which makes me believe the aeroplane, far more than Hague conferences and leagues to enforce peace, will exert a powerful influence in putting an end to war.

MEN AND MONEY.

The armies we shall raise to prosecute our war against Germany will be secured upon the principle which the president has laid down in his address to congress—the principle of universal liability to service.

The money we shall raise to support those armies and pay other costs of war should be raised upon the same principle.

We shall have new taxes, as surely as we shall have new armies. We shall have an issue of bonds as surely as we shall have a supply of shells. In the end it will be taxation which will pay for everything—the increase in immediate expenditure, the interest charges upon the bonds and cost of their ultimate retirement.

Every man, woman and child in America now will profit by a victory in the war, every man, woman and child of generations to come will similarly profit. The burden of the war cost, therefore, should be laid equally upon every man, woman and child of this and subsequent generations. The Claude Kitchen school of finance, whereby taxes are levied to be spent by southern congressmen after they have been paid by northern business men, must be abandoned. This is the nation's war, not the democratic party's nor the south's. The nation will fight it, the nation should pay for it. The universal liability to pay is the logical extension of the principle of universal liability to serve. Some men can serve in a higher position than others, some can pay more than others. The less capable man renders the service he can. And the poorer man should pay what he can. The big incomes, the highly profitable enterprises should pay, of course; so, too, should the smaller incomes and the less remunerative lines of business.

A NEW NATIONAL PARK.

The latest addition to the national parks of the United States is the Mt. McKinley Reservation in Alaska, which has an area of 2200 square miles and contains the loftiest mountain in North America, rising 20,300 feet above sea level. There are now 17 great parks that have been set aside by acts of congress for the benefit of the American people: The Saguoa and the General National Parks in Southern California, the Mt. Rainier in Washington, the Hot Springs in Arkansas, the Yellowstone in Northwestern Wyoming, the Yosemite in California, the Crater Lake in Southern Oregon, the Glacier National Park in Montana, the Wind Cave in South Dakota, the Mesa Verde and the Rocky Mountain Park in Colorado, the Casa Grande in Arizona, the Platte in Oklahoma, Sully's Hill in North Dakota, Lassen Volcanic Park in California, Hawaii National Park in Hawaii and Mt. McKinley National Park in Alaska.

ON EXHIBITION AT LIBRARY

A canvas one and one-half by two feet, "In the Gulf of Venice," painted by Noah Brooks, author and artist, will have much of interest for Dixon people. The canvas will be exhibited at the public library. Mr. Brooks visited Dixon many years ago and will be remembered by a number of the older residents. One of Mr. Brooks' well known books is "Boy Emigrants." The painting was made by Mr. Brooks as a study for the old Opera House curtain and will doubtless bring pleasant recollections of former days to many. The picture was presented to the ton Fahrney, who is collecting relics of Dixon, by Mrs. D. H. Law. Although showing the marks of time, the painting reveals excellent workmanship.

SYNOPSIS

EDWARD MALONE, newspaper man, is in love with Gladys Huntington. She tells him the man she loves must do some brave act. Malone gets an assignment to interview Professor Challenger, explorer.

When Challenger and Malone meet Challenger proclaims Malone an impostor, and they have a fierce personal encounter.

Challenger expresses a liking for Malone when the latter refuses to have him arrested. The professor then proceeds to show Malone proofs of a prehistoric land.

Malone reports to McArdle, his city editor, that Challenger is not an impostor and that he has arranged to be present at a scientific meeting of professors.

There is a great demonstration in the hall when Professor Challenger arrives. Challenger asks for volunteers to go on an expedition to the prehistoric land.

CHAPTER VII.

"Tomorrow We Disappear Into the Unknown."

I WILL not bore those whom this narrative may reach by an account of our luxurious voyage upon the ocean liner, nor will I tell of our week's stay at Para (save that I should wish to acknowledge the great kindness of the company in helping us to get together our equipment). I will also allude very briefly to our river journey up a wide, slow moving, clay tinted stream in a steamer which was little smaller than that which had carried us across the Atlantic. Eventually we found ourselves through the narrows of Obidos and reached the town of Manaus. Here we were rescued from the limited attractions of the local inn by Mr. Shortman, the representative of the British and Brazilian Trading company. In his hospital Fazenda we spent our time until the day when we were empowered to open the letter of instructions given to us by Professor Challenger. Before I reach the surprising events of that date I should desire to give a clearer sketch of my comrades in this enterprise and of the associates whom we had already gathered together in South America. I speak freely, and I leave the use of my material to your own discretion, Mr. McArdle, since it is through your hands that this report must pass before it reaches the world.

The scientific attainments of Professor Summerlee are too well known for me to trouble to recapitulate them. He is better equipped for a rough expedition of this sort than one would imagine at first sight. His tall, gaunt, stringy figure is insensible to fatigue, and his dry, half sarcastic and often wholly unsympathetic manner is undisturbed by any change in his surroundings. Though in his sixty-sixth year, I have never heard him express any dissatisfaction at the occasional hardships which we have had to encounter. I had regarded his presence as an encumbrance to the expedition; but, as a matter of fact, I am now well convinced that his power of endurance is as great as my own. In temper he is naturally acid and skeptical.

Lord John Roxton has some points in common with Professor Summerlee and others in which they are the very antithesis to each other. He is twenty years younger, but has something of the same spare, scraggy physique. As to his appearance, I have, as I recollect, described it in that portion of my narrative which I have left behind me in London. He is exceedingly neat and prim in his ways, dresses always with great care in white drill suits and high brown mosquito boots and shaves at least once a day. Like most men of action, he is laconic in speech and sinks readily into his own thoughts, but he is always quick to answer a question or join in a conversation, talking in a queer, jerky, half humorous fashion. His knowledge of the world, and very especially of South America, is surprising, and he has a whole hearted belief in the possibilities of our journey which is not dashed by the sneers of Professor Summerlee. He has a gentle voice and a quiet manner, but behind his twinkling blue eyes there lurks a capacity for furious wrath and implacable resolution, the more dangerous because they are held in leash.

So much for the moment for my two white companions, whose characters and limitations will be further expounded, as surely as my own, as this narrative proceeds. But already we have enrolled certain retainers who may play no small part in what is to come. The first is a gigantic negro named Zambou, who is a black Hercules, as willing as any horse and about as intelligent. Him we enlisted at Para on the recommendation of the steamship company, on whose vessels he had learned to speak a halting English.

It was at Para also that we engaged Gomez and Manuel, two half breeds from up the river, just come down with a cargo of redwood. They were swarthy fellows, bearded and fierce, as active and wiry as panthers. Both of them had spent their lives in those upper waters of the Amazon which we were about to explore, and it was this recommendation which had caused Lord John to engage them. One of them, Gomez, had the further advantage that he could speak excellent English. These men were willing to act as our personal servants, to cook, to row or to make themselves useful in any way at a payment of $15 a month. Besides these, we had engaged three Mojo Indians from Bolivia, who are the most skillful at fishing and boat work of all the river tribes. The chief of these we called Mojo, after his tribe, and the others are known as Jose and Fernando. Three white men, then, two half breeds, one negro and three Indians made up the personnel of the little expedition which lay waiting for its instructions at Manaus before starting upon its singular quest.

At last, after a weary week, the day had come and the hour. I ask you to picture the shaded sitting room of the Fazenda St. Ignacio, two miles inland from the town of Manaus. Outside lay the yellow, brassy glare of the sun, shining with the shadows of the palm trees as black and definite as the trees themselves. The air was calm, full of the eternal hum of insects, a tropical chorus of many octaves, from the deep drone of the bee to the high, keen pipe of the mosquito. Beyond the veranda was a small cleared garden, bounded with cactus hedges and adorned with clumps of flowering shrubs, round which the great blue butterflies and the tiny humming birds fluttered and darted in crescents of sparkling light. Within we were seated round the cane table, on which lay a sealed envelope. Inscribed upon it in the jagged handwriting of Professor Challenger were the words:

Instructions to Lord John Roxton and party. To be opened at Manaus upon July 15, at 12 o'clock precisely.

Lord John had placed his watch upon the table beside him.

"We have seven more minutes," said he. "The old dear is very precise."

Professor Summerlee gave an acid smile as he picked up the envelope in his gaunt hand.

"What can it possibly matter whether we open it now or in seven minutes?" said he. "It is all part and parcel of the same system of quackery and nonsense for which I regret to say that the writer is notorious."

"Oh, come! We must play the game according to rules," said Lord John. "It's old man Challenger's show, and we are here by his good will, so it would be quite bad form if we didn't follow his instructions to the letter."

"A pretty business it is!" cried the professor bitterly. "It struck me as preposterous in London, but I'm bound to say that it seems even more so upon closer acquaintance. I don't know what is inside this envelope; but, unless it is something pretty definite, I shall be much tempted to take the next down river boat and catch the Bolivia at Para. After all, I have some more responsible work in the world than to run about disproving the assertions of a lunatic. Now, Roxton, surely it is time."

"Time it is," said Lord John. "You can blow the whistle." He took up the envelope and cut it with his pen knife. From it he drew a folded sheet of paper. This he carefully opened out and flattened on the table. It was a blank sheet. He turned it over. Again it was blank. We looked at each other in a bewildered silence, which was broken by a discordant burst of derisive laughter from Professor Summerlee.

"It is an open admission!" he cried. "What more do you want? The fellow is a self confessed humbug. We have only to return home and report him as the brazen impostor that he is."

"May I come in?" boomed a voice from the veranda.

The shadow of a squat figure had stolen across the patch of sunlight. That voice, that monstrous breadth of shoulder! We sprang to our feet with a gasp of astonishment as Challenger, in a round, boyish straw hat with a colored ribbon—Challenger, with his hands in his jacket pockets and his canvas shoes daintily pointing as he walked—appeared in the open space before us. He threw back his head, and there he stood in golden glow with all his old Assyrian luxuriance of beard, all his native insolence of drooping eyelids and intolerant eyes.

"I fear," said he, taking out his watch, "that I am a few minutes too late. When I gave you this envelope I must confess that I had never intended that you should open it, for it had been my fixed intention to be with you before the hour. The unfortunate delay can be apportioned between a blundering pilot and an intrusive sand bank. I fear that it has given my colleague, Professor Summerlee, occasion to blaspheme. You need no chart of directions now, since you will have the inestimable advantage of my own guidance. From the first I had determined that I would myself preside over your investigation. The most elaborate charts would, as you will readily admit, be a poor substitute for my own intelligence and advice. As to the small ruse which I played upon you in the matter of the envelope, it is clear that had I told you all my intentions I should have been forced to resist unwelcome pressure to travel out with you."

It was Aug. 2 when we snapped our last link with the outer world by bidding farewell to the Esmeralda, a steam launch which Lord John Roxton chartered to take us up the river. Since then four days have passed, during which we have engaged two large canoes from the Indians, made of so light a material (skins over a bamboo framework) that we should be able to carry them around any obstacle. These we loaded with all our effects and have engaged two additional Indians to help us in the navigation. I understand that they are the very two—Ataca and Ipetu by name—who accompanied Professor Challenger upon his previous journey. They appeared to be terrified at the prospect of repeating it, but the chief has patriarchal powers in these countries, and if the bargain is good in his eyes the clansman has little choice in the matter.

So tomorrow we disappear into the unknown. This account I am transmitting down the river by canoe, and it may be our last word to those who are interested in our fate. I have, according to our arrangement, addressed it to you, my dear Mr. McArdle, and I leave it to your discretion to delete, alter or do what you like with it.

From the assurance of Professor Challenger's manner and in spite of the continued skepticism of Professor Summerlee I have no doubt that our leader will make good his statement and that we are really on the eve of some most remarkable experiences.

When I wrote last we were about to leave the Indian village where we had been deposited by the Esmeralda. I have to begin my report by bad news, for the first serious personal trouble (I pass over the incessant bickerings between the professors) occurred this evening and might have had a tragic ending. I have spoken of our English speaking half breed Gomez—a fine worker and a willing fellow, but afflicted, I fancy, with the vice of curiosity, which is common enough among such men. On the last evening he seems to have hid himself near the hut in which we were discussing our plans, and, being observed by our huge negro Zambou, who is as faithful as a dog and has the hatred which all his race bear to the half breeds, he was dragged out and carried into our presence. Gomez whipped out his knife, however, and but for the huge strength of his captor, which enabled him to disarm him with one hand, he would certainly have stabbed him. The matter has ended in reprisals, the opponents have been compelled to shake hands, and there is every hope that all will be well.

For two days we made our way up a good sized river, some hundreds of yards broad and dark in color, but transparent, so that one could usually see the bottom. The affluents of the Amazon are, half of them, of this nature, while the other half are whitish and opaque, the difference depending upon the class of country through which they have flowed. The dark indicates vegetable decay, while the others point to clayey soil. Twice we came across rapids and in each case made a portage of half a mile or so to avoid them. The woods on either side were primeval, which are more easily penetrated than woods of the second growth, and we had no great difficulty in carrying our canoes through them. How shall I ever forget the solemn mystery of it? The height of the trees and the thickness of the boles exceeded anything which I in my town bred life could have imagined, shooting upward in magnificent columns until, at an enormous distance above our heads, we could dimly discern the spot where they threw out their side branches into Gothic upward curves which coalesced to form one great matted roof of verdure, through which only an occasional golden ray of sunshine shot downward to trace a thin dazzling line of light amid the majestic obscurity. As we walked noiselessly amid the thick, soft carpet of decaying vegetation the hush fell upon our souls which comes upon us in the twilight of the abbey, and even Professor Challenger's full chested notes sank into a whisper. Alone I should have been ignorant of the names of these of giant growth, but our men of science pointed out the cedars, the great silk cotton trees and the redwood trees, with all that profusion of various plants which has made this continent the chief supplier to the human race of those gifts of nature which depend upon the vegetable world, while it is the most backward in those products which come from animal life.

A CHILD'S TONGUE SHOWS IF LIVER OR BOWELS ARE ACTIVE

If cross, feverish, sick, bilious, give fruit laxative at once.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue. Mother, if coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative" and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, sore throat, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

YOUR FLAG AND MY FLAG

By Wilbur D. Nesbit
"Your flag and my flag
And how it flies today
In your land and my land
And half a world away!
Rose-red and blood red
The stripes forever gleam;
Snow-white and soul white—
The good forefather's dream.
Sky-blue and true-blue, with stars to gleam aright
The gloried guidon of the day;
A shelter through the night."
"Your flag and my flag!
And oh, how much it holds—
Your land and my land—Secure within its folds!"

U. G. H. ACID STOMACH, SOURNESS, HEARTBURN, GAS OR INDIGESTION

The moment "Pape's Diapiesin" reaches the stomach all distress goes

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into acids and cause a sick, sour, gas stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, let this down: Pape's Diapiesin helps neutralize the excessive acids in the stomach so your food won't sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick to certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is upset you usually get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it helps to regulate your stomachs without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapiesin" is positive in neutralizing the acidity, so the misery won't come back very quickly.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapiesin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eruptions of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin from any drugstore. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia, or any stomach disorder, due to acid fermentation.

ILLINOIS HAS FOOD INCREASE PROPOSAL

Board of Agriculture Will Send Plan to Congress.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., April 14. The Illinois board of agriculture will hold a meeting in the near future to take action on a three cornered proposal to congress, which has been approved by a majority, looking to the encouragement of food production in war time. The proposals are:

An increase of 20 per cent in the production of corn for this season.

Guaranteeing a minimum price to farmers for raising food products.

Enlisting boys too young for military duty or of men physically disabled for the army for work on farms under military discipline.

Announcement to this effect was made by B. H. Davidson, secretary of the board of agriculture, who declared the food situation in Illinois is serious.

Mrs. Phil N. Marks returned last evening from a month's visit in Chicago, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Rachael.

AUSTRIA RECALLS ITS ENVOY FROM BRAZIL

Brazilians Told by Their Government to Flee Germany.

Rio de Janeiro, April 14.—The Austrian minister to Brazil made formal request for his passports, stating his government's intention to support its ally, Germany, in the break with Brazil.

Foreign Minister Lauro Muller has cabled the Brazilian minister in Berlin asking him to urge all Brazilians in Germany to leave the country within twentyfour hours. A decree has been issued withdrawing the exequaturs of the German consuls. The ministers of France, Great Britain and Italy conferred at length with Dr. Muller.

An official inspection of the German ships seized in Brazilian ports shows that important parts of the engines are missing, rendering the vessels practically useless.

WAR BRINGS DRY SUNDAYS

Movement Among Wisconsin Authorities to Check Liquor Selling.

Green Bay, Wis., April 14.—Saloonkeepers of Green Bay agreed to close their saloons each Sunday until noon. At the same time Thomas E. Hawley, chief of police, gave notice that the police department would enforce the closing of places found open Sunday forenoons.

Marquette, Wis., April 14.—At a conference held here between the mayors and district attorneys of Marquette it was decided to close the saloons of the two cities on Sundays hereafter. The order was issued Friday. The closing will probably be extended to all places in both counties. The fact that the country is now at war is said to be the prime cause.

Youth and Old Age.

I have a theory that old age is in better touch with youth than middle age. The grandsires and grandams of all time are evidence. Through a beautiful foresight of nature the old folk are living their young days over again in memory, and yet have lived long enough to see that if youth is full of joyance and age of care, the care is a matter of no great account, while the joyance was the rich reward of life.—Robert M. Gay, in the Atlantic.

Mrs. John Reinhart was here from Franklin Grove Friday.

ANTIGERMAN DEMONSTRATIONS

Public Resolution Is Circulated Congratulating President Wilson for His War Stand—Crowds on Street Demand Breaking Off Relations and Declaring War With Germany.

Buenos Aires, April 14.—It is announced officially that the Argentine steamship Monte Protegido has been sunk by a submarine. A rupture with Germany is imminent.

The announcement was made after a conference between President Irigoyen and the German minister. Later the President called members of his cabinet together to discuss the situation.

Demonstrations Against Germany.

Public demonstrations broke out as soon as news was circulated that an Argentine ship had been sunk by a submarine. The demonstrations were strongly anti-German. The Argentine public in a petition-resolution congratulated President Wilson on his stand against Germany. The resolution was handed to the American ambassador for transmission to the American president.

Crowds Demand War.

Wild street demonstrations followed circulation of the news that an Argentine vessel had been sunk. Throngs in the streets in front of the newspaper offices and government buildings demanded that relations be broken with Germany and that war be declared.

The demonstrations were no less general than those which occurred at Rio de Janeiro when news was received of the sinking of the Brazilian steamship Parana. It is believed Argentina will follow Brazil's example by breaking off diplomatic and consular relations with the Imperial German government.

The steamship Monte Protegido is not listed in Lloyds.

Indict Four for Plots.

El Paso, Tex., April 14.—Indictments have been returned in the United States district court against Mrs. Amelia Toennigs, Clarence Toennigs and Josephine Toennigs, her son and daughter, and Henry Breach, all Germans, charging them with "conspiracy to invade the United States through Mexico."

Held as German Spy.

Grand Rapids, Mich., April 14.—Albert Stockvis of Cleveland, O., arrested at Ionia by federal agents, was brought to Grand Rapids and is being held pending an investigation of his alleged German activities.

Police Guard Captive.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 14.—Six state policemen from Troop D, Butler, commanded by a sergeant, arrived here to guard the captor at all hours.

University Perfecting War Plan.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., April 14. The University of Illinois expects within a few days to have perfected the plans for its part of the national preparation for war. Compulsory military training for all students is considered. At present only freshmen and sophomores are trained.

Guard Against Plotters.

EAST ST. LOUIS, April 14. Extraordinary precautions against German plotters are being taken at the National stock yards at East St. Louis and practically all of the lunches of 10,000 employees are daily examined by government agents.

Former Pastor to Dedicate Church.

ROCKFORD, ILL., April 14. Bishop W. O. Shepard, a former pastor from 1891 to 1895, will be the principal speaker at the dedication of the remodeled Court Street Methodist Episcopal church on April 22 at Rockford.

Solons to Enjoy University Trip.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., April 14. Arrangements have been completed for the Illinois general assembly's inspection of the state university at Urbana. Both houses of the legislature will adjourn for the trip.

Will Fight Game Cases.

OREGON, ILL., April 14. The proprietors of two Rock Island hotels, arrested by game wardens, one for selling wild ducks and the other for selling black bass out of season, will fight the cases.

Militia Lieutenant Resigns.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., April 14. Adjutant General Dickson has accepted the resignation of First Lieutenant Leroy Songer of Company B, Third Illinois infantry, at Hoopeson.

Favors Trying Volunteer System.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., April 14. Senator Latham introduced a resolution declaring against compulsory military service until such time as the volunteer system proves insufficient.

Vote $50,000 for War Census.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., April 14. The senate passed, 35 to 0, the Curtis bill appropriating $50,000 for taking a war census of the state. The house will pass the bill next week.
